WHAT RISING UP ANGRY THINKS ABOUT...

THE ENERGY CRISIS

No matter what Johnny Cash says, Standard Oil, Mobil Oil, and the rest of the oil industry are not doing all that they can to avert an energy crisis. In fact, the oil industry has completely made up and manipulated this so-called energy crisis in order to increase their already huge profits.

They rob the people out of both pockets. As consumers, we pay outrageously high prices for gasoline and other fuel while the profits of the big companies are soaring higher than ever. As taxpayers, we're ripped off by paying high taxes while the oil companies pay very little.

WHO IS THE OIL INDUSTRY

The oil industry is the most powerful group of capitalists in the country. More than anyone else, it's the rich oil men who run this country and tell Nixon what to do.

Many of Nixon's largest financial contributors are oil tycoons. The controversial $89,000 which was "laundered" through a Mexico City bank in the Watergate case was part of a $100,000 contribution to President Nixon's re-election committee by Texas oil man Robert H. Allen, president of Gulf Resources and Chemical Company. The Chicago Tribune, in a survey of campaign contribution lists, determined that some $2 million in large contributions was donated to President Nixon's campaign by a dozen contributors, all of whom were executives or major stockholders in petroleum and related industries. Chief among them was Richard Mellon Scaife, chief heir to the Mellon fortune and a principal stockholder in the Gulf Oil Corporation. Scaife gave $1 million.

These aren't a few isolated cases. The richest men in the world are oil men and they're all tied in with the government in one way or another. Men like H.L. Hunt, John Paul Getty, Rockefeller brothers, and so forth all gave substantially to Nixon's campaign and they all get repaid by favors from the government.

Interior Department officials sit with oil company executives on committees that decide government policy toward the oil industry. President Nixon's chief energy adviser until recently, Peter Flanigan, was supporting a subsidy to a tanker line that he helped to organize before joining the administration. Recently-retired Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Charles E. Walker, brother of recently departed Federal Power Commissioner Pinkney Walker, was reported to be representing oil interests, particularly in the campaign for decontrol of natural gas prices.

Basically, it's impossible to separate the oil industry from the government. They work together for high profits at the expense of the people.

HOW THEY ROB US

Gasoline costs about three cents a gallon to produce. The manufacturers then sell it to the gas stations for twenty to twenty four cents a gallon. The dealer adds a five cent to six cent markup, and we pay 38 to 43 cents a gallon. In other words, consumers pay 13 times the manufacturing cost of a gallon of gasoline. Because of this, the oil corporations are making a profit greater than ever before. First quarter profits for 1973 are ahead of 1972 by 24%.

In addition to the super-profits, the oil corporations cheat us by paying very little money in taxes. H.L. Hunt earns a million dollars a week and John Paul Getty earns about $300,000 a day. Neither one of them pays more than a few thousand dollars a year in taxes. There are also plenty of other oil tycoons who rob just as much, but Getty and Hunt are the most famous.

The oil companies themselves are getting away with even more. Most corporations in the U.S. pay about 40% in taxes.

Every year, the oil companies save a total of $1.6 billion in tax subsidies. To get an idea of how much money this is and how much it cost the taxpayers here are some examples of what $1.6 billion per year could buy:

- Nearly four times the amount devoted to the "Head Start" program for pre-school children
- Twenty-one times the funds for the Neighborhood Youth Corps.
- Eight times as much as is spent for on-the-job training of veterans.
- Eighteen times the Federal support for the arts and humanities.

WHY AN ENERGY CRISIS

If the oil industry makes so much money, why then can't they just increase production and avert an energy crisis. The simplest answer is that they are greedy and the energy crisis is a self-inflicted wound designed to force the public to grant even more concessions to the money-hungry oil tycoons. Some of the reasons that the oil industry created an energy crisis are:

1) as an excuse to raise prices on oil products, especially gasoline;

2) as a method for the major oil companies to run the small companies out of business;

3) to get the government to end Federal regulation of interstate natural gas prices. It's estimated that a 30 cent per 1000 cubic feet increase in the price of natural gas would increase the bills of consumers by $6.6 billion. It would increase the value of the domestic reserves by $300 billion. This money would go to the major oil companies;

4) to stop any environmental restrictions so that the oil companies can avoid spending money to stop pollution, so that they can drill for new cheap supplies of local crude oil off the California coast, and so that they can construct the trans-Alaskan pipeline;

5) to get the government to drop import quotas. There's plenty of oil in the Middle East, but because of restrictions it costs about $2.25 a barrel as opposed to 75 cents a barrel for California oil. The devaluation of the dollar makes the foreign oil even more expensive. There would still be a profit but the oil companies are too greedy to be satisfied with less profits.

The energy crisis is a scare tactic to squeeze more money out of the American people. Almost all of our fuel is controlled by a few large monopolies. Standard Oil of New Jersey, Mobil, Texaco, and Gulf accounted for 55.4% of all petroleum sales in 1970. They've gotten together and created this phoney crisis. But, as we examine the facts, we can see that the problem isn't a lack of fuel. The real crisis is that the monopoly capitalists have too much power. The solution would be

ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE.

GEORGE LUCAS INQUEST

AN ATTEMPT TO COVER UP MURDER

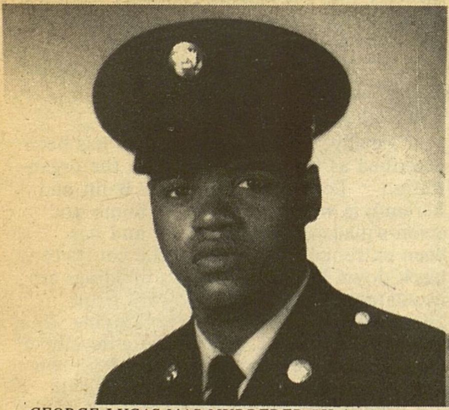
GEORGE LUCAS' WIFE, JOANN, HOLDING THEIR 16 MONTH OLD SON, PAICOS, AND HIS SISTER, DOROTHY (LEFT WITH GLASSES) TELL REPORTERS THAT THEY WILL KEEP FIGHTING UNTIL GEORGE'S MURDERERS ARE PUNISHED

On Feb. 9th, at 7:30 in the morning, George Lucas was choked and smothered to death by 4 Cook County Jail guards. 8 eyewitnesses testified that George Lucas was murdered by these 4 Cook County Jail guards, and medical evidence brought out at the inquest showed that he was suffocated. . .

On Thursday, May 31st, a Coronor's Jury of 3 men and 2 women (4 of whom were personal friends and neighbors of the Coronor's chief assistant) ruled that George Lucas's death was due to natural causes.

This is the story of one of at least 8 mysterious deaths in Chicago area jails since January. . . . .

George Lucas was arrested on a burglary charge in January and put in isolation in the House of Correction awaiting his February 9th court date. On January 26th George began acting "strange." (Medical testimony by one of the staff of Cermak Hospital said that George was being given shots of thorazine, a strong tranquilizer by unlicensed nurses). On February 6th, 3 days before George's court date, Dr. Howell, the jail psychiatrist (a licensed pediatrician) came to interview George. During the interview George refused to face the doctor and kept his back to him. Later that day George was transferred to Ward 1 of the Cook County Jail (the medical ward).



GEORGE LUCAS WAS MURDERED BY 4 COOK COUNTY JAIL GUARDS

On February 9th (the morning of George's court date) he was awakened at 7:00 AM, and taken into the bath room by 4 members of the 6-1 squad (a special group of roving guards, sometimes called the "goon squad"). When they came out of the bathroom, the guards were beating George. He was yelling that the guards were trying to kill him. By this time the 6-1 squad had decided that George wasn't "fit" to go to court, and they took him back to his bed and beat him while putting him in restraints (leather belts for the ankles, wrists, and waist). At this time 8 other prisoners saw the "goon squad," (Sgt. Isaac Chatman, and Officers Gilyard, Hill, Kelly, and Captain Morris), hit Lucas in the face, head, and body. Then, while one guard had his hand around Lucas' throat, Officer Hill put a blanket over Lucas' face and held it there with both hands. George Lucas struggled as best he could, then his back arched up, and his body went limp. When Hill took the blanket off Lucas' face, blood was coming from his mouth. A nurse came over and when she was unable to find any pulse, George's body was carried out.

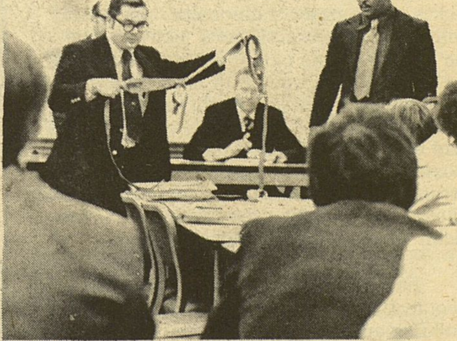
Later, George's mother, Mrs. Emma Lucas, his wife JoAnn, and his sister Dorothy, were called down to the morgue to identify the body. The body was covered with a sheet and only the face was exposed. The face was badly bruised, and Mrs. Lucas demanded to see the rest of her son's body. When the attendant said, "no," she pulled the sheet off and found her son's legs chained, his wrists in handcuffs, and his body badly bruised.

Winston Moore, Head of the Cook County Department of Corrections said that George had died of an apparent heart attack, based on an autopsy done by Dr. Culala, an unlicensed physician, and that he had "not died of injuries received in Cook County Jail." But the family was not satisfied, and sought the help of the Alliance to End Repression and Lawyers Jeff Haas and Flint Taylor, of the National Lawyers Guild. In addition, George's fellow inmates, Ronald Woodard, Lamare Patrick, Frank Davis, Albert Racanelli, and others, weren't satisfied either, and braving possible retaliation, contacted the lawyers through "Prisoners United."

On May 15, a second autopsy was performed. This was to be an impartial autopsy ordered by the States Attorney's Office on behalf of the Lucas family. This autopsy, done by Dr. Korndlun, a pathologist from Maryland, claimed that a lack of oxygen brought on a sickle cell crisis. Dr. Korndlun said at the inquest, that George Lucas had been struggling, became exhausted, his blood cells sickled, and George died of . . . natural causes. And this is just what the Coroner, the States Attorney, the guards, and jail officials wanted to hear.

A third medical expert testified that the first 2 autopsies were wrong. The third expert, called to the inquest by the family's lawyers, was Dr. James Bowman, a pathology professor at the University of Chicago and head of the National Institute of Health on Sickle Cell. He told the inquest that after studying the first two autopsy reports, he disagreed. About the lst autopsy, Dr. Bowman said that he wished he had a heart as strong as George Lucas' and that that autopsy said nothing. He also disagreed with the second autopsy. He said that it is normal for a man's blood to sickle after he dies if he has this hereditary blood condition, but that this in no way was the cause of death. And finally he said that the evidence pointed to suffocation or strangulation. Dr. Bowman noted the fact that the body had deep bruises on the throat and neck, and from looking at the evidence, George had not died from natural causes.

But the jury wasn't listening to facts. They weren't picked to listen to facts. They weren't picked to be outraged when Assistant States Attorney Pendergast tried to discredit the eyewitnesses by having them pick the murdering guards from 3 year old, 1" X 1" photos and by trying to confuse them on the names of the guards. They weren't picked to be outraged when the guards said that the blanket that smothered George Lucas "had just come flying through the air", and that no one knew where it came from, or when the guards said they had never hit George's bruised body. The Assistant States Attorney was supposed to be impartial but he clearly did all that he could to discredit the witnesses and prove that George's death was of natural causes.



OFFICER KELLY (STANDING RIGHT) AND ASSISTANT STATES ATTORNEY WM. PENDERGAST SHOW BODY RESTRAINTS LIKE THOSE USED ON GEORGE LUCAS AT THE TIME HE WAS MURDERED.

A 150 lb. man, drugged by a heavy tranquilizer, was murdered by 4 guards, each weighing 250 lbs. This murder was witnessed by 8 men who had nothing to gain, but much to lose by testifying against the same men who would still be their guards after the inquest was over.

So on Thursday, May 31, a rigged jury, decided that George Lucas had died of "natural causes." But this fight is not over. The family and friends of George Lucas will fight until his murderers are punished and the people know the real truth.

ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE

SLUM-LORDS KILL PEOPLE

During the week of May 6th, the Chicago Tribune ran a week long series on Chicago's top ten slumlords. Rising Up Angry had worked with the Tribune task force earlier in the investigation in uncovering three of the top ten, the notorious Gutman brothers, Herman, Max and Leon. These greedy cutthroats are the most ruthless of the ten because of their day to day involvement with their tenants and buildings. They supervised people's heat, electricity, and water being cut off, and also the lock-outs, the burglaries and the intimidation of visitors. The Gutmans have seen the accidents, deaths and misery that people had to endure all because these slumlords wouldn't get up off their money for anybody except a few building inspectors.

The buildings are in disgusting shape. In the last three years, 18 cases of lead poisoning have been reported from the Gutman buildings, some of which occurred after lead paint violations had been dismissed by the courts. There have been 102 fires in two years in 35 Gutman buildings. The building at 927 N. Wilson had 12 fires in one year. Three people have been killed and many hurt since September of 1972 because of neglect. Yet the Gutmans insist that the tenants mess up the buildings and it's their responsibility to fix them. Max Gutman in particular, had the arrogance to say when questioned about the numerous lead poisoning cases (seven in one building at 4107–15 Broadway), "You know where they get it. They eat dog shit!"

In the last six months things have changed drastically in the Gutman "estates". Since the first of the year, nine of these buildings have gone to housing court because of numerous violations Public Aid is holding back rent payments on 34 Gutman buildings totaling $42,021.42 monthly. The Gutmans' credit rating has been ruined because of the Tribune series. They can't get new mortgages so they can't buy anymore buildings and because of the code violations in their present buildings, they don't get any rent and can't sell them. They're through and they'll be bankrupted and out of business shortly.

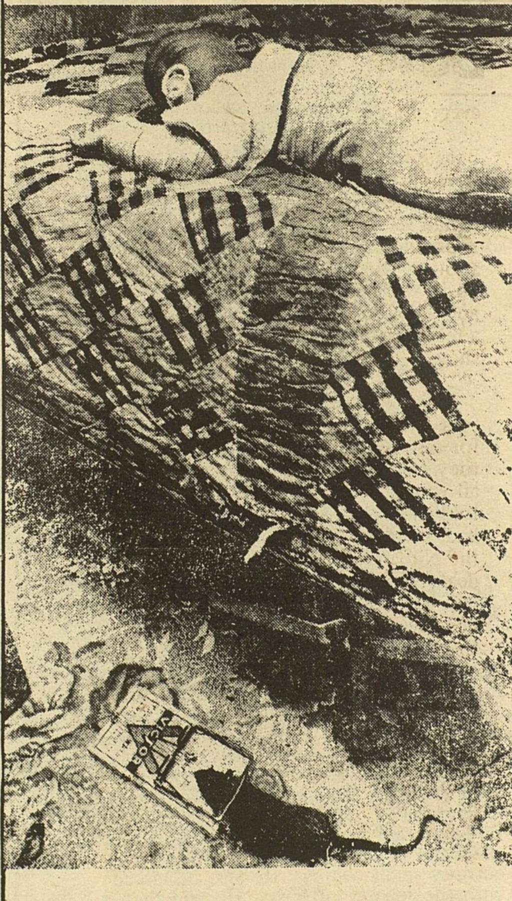
If all goes well, a couple of the Gutmans may even become tenants of the county - at 26th & California.

The Gutmans were big slumlords and getting rid of them is the first step in a long process. Although they are big, they are no where near the biggest. On the west side, there's a kind of slumlord organization. The leader and the brains behind it is a lawyer named Moe Foreman. Foreman grew up in Lawndale, so he knows the neighborhood and institutions well. Foreman is the "American Dream" come true - from rags to riches. He's now a millionaire, but no one will ever know exactly how many babies he burned or the extent of the misery that he and his slum operation have caused to thousands of people. At different times during the last 15 years, this operation has had an estimated 2,000 buildings in its possession. If those 2,000 buildings were strung out on both sides of Roosevelt Road, they would stretch from State St. to Manheim Road—a distance of 12 miles.

Foreman operates by financing his partners in the slum dynasty. They buy the building and he gives them the money. They manage it, collect the rent, pay the bills sometimes, and he doesn't get anything until the building is sold or they burn it to collect the insurance. Usually they buy the buildings from the banks who hold mortgages or from the government by paying back taxes. Foreman buys a building for $5,000, burns it, and collects $50,000 in insurance. It's not quite that simple because there are a million technical manuevers they go through to jack up the buildings price, but you'd have to be a lawyer to understand them. Foreman controls four other of the top ten slumlords: Gilbert Balin, Victor Spector, Louis Wolf, and Albert Berland. He can control them because he holds all the financial records, deeds, and mortgages, so in his words, "if they double cross me, they'll be through."

MAX, HERMAN & LEON, GUTMAN ARE 3 OF CHICAGO'S TOP 10 SLUMLORDS.

> The Gutmans have seen the accidents, deaths and misery that people had to endure all because these slumlords wouldn't get up off their money for anybody except a few building inspectors.



WHILE UNCOVERING THE TOP 10 SLUMLORDS IN CHICAGO, THE TRIBUNE TOOK THIS PICTURE OF 2 YEAR OLD JESSICA CARTER, WHO WAS BITTEN BY A RAT LESS THAN 24 HOURS AFTER THE OWNER OF THE BUILDING, GERALD CRANE, TOLD REPORTERS, "I'M NO SLUMLORD." IN ONE NIGHT, 7 RATS WERE CAUGHT I IN THE APARTMENT.

Gilbert Balin, who is a resident of affluent Oak Brook, owns 30-40 slum buildings himself and he manages 300 buildings, many of which are owned by his partners in the slum dynasty. Balin never keeps his buildings in his own name; many of them are hidden in trust under his wife's maiden name. The reason, as he told investigators, is, "I don't want any buildings in my name because when I go to court I don't want them to know I own them." With the disgusting conditions of his buildings, it's understandable why he wouldn't want his name on it. It seems even this tactic of phony names and hidden trusts can't keep Balin out of trouble. Currently, he's under investigation for a building owned by Victor Spector which he managed. The building was found gasoline soaked with a timing device set.

Another partner in the slum dynasty and a man well known by the bomb and arson squad is Ablert Berland. Berland, who's buildings seem to attract fire, has collected over $250,000 in fire insurance claims. He's been in the slum business for over ten years and in that time has had possession of over 300 buildings. He also owns a chain of paint and wallpaper stores. Although he tries to front off as a legitimate businessman, in 1969 he was convicted of obtaining phony credit reports to get federally insured mortgages worth $200,000. He is currently on probation. Like Balin, he doesn't want the courts to know his name either. So he used the names of ministers and other people on the deeds, mortgages, and trusts without their knowledge.

The associate who looks like the Godfather of them all is Victor Spector. Most of his buildings are managed by Balin. He is a confessed income tax evader and an old time slumlord. He has owned slum buildings as far back as the 1940's, while he lives in Wilmette in a $100,000 condominium. His slum empire has expanded to include its own real estate agency, construction company, finance and investment agencies, and a wrecking company. Because of his slum buildings, many of which were concealed in a land trust under the name of P.A. McElroy, he was convicted of evading $73,000 in income tax.

Finally, there's the man who has been described as the most ruthless in the organization – Louis Wolf. He, like Balin and Berland, is well-known by the bomb and arson squad. He is a bachelor and has been extremely difficult for the courts to track down because all of his buildings are in relatives' names and he moves from apartment to apartment, never staying very long anywhere. He is also a developer of commercial property, and is best known by his associates for the development of the Park Lane Mall in New Town. But to his tennants, he is known as a cutthroat baby burner who would burn his mother out if there was enough money in it.

These men are the terrors of the west side, keeping thousands of people in constant misery and terror. Children falling through rotted porches, heatless winters, rat bites, lead poisoning, fire, the fear of fires, evictions and lock-outs; these are the financial games played by these slumlords who live off the misery of others.

Balin, Spector, Wolf, and Berland have been investigated by a grand jury because of all the fires that their buildings attract. Everyone but Spector has been indicted and hopefully will go to jail. The Federal Government is also trying to get them for defrauding a federal insurance company for millions of dollars.

The connection between the five of these men was never known until recently. By looking at court records, we can now see how these men backed each other up and maneuvered their deals. They're not just the average greedy landlords; it's a conspiracy by a handful of people to profit from the suffering of thousands of good

POLICE BEAT 14 YR. OLD BROTHER'S EYE OUT

CLAUDE BAILEY (FRONT/RIGHT) WITH FRIENDS ABOUT 1 WEEK BEFORE 2 DETECTIVES BRUTALLY ASSAULTED HIM CAUSING HIM TO LOSE HIS EYE.

On Friday, May 18, 14 year old Claude Bailey of 2302 W. Roscoe was so badly beaten by police detectives that his eye had to be removed that same night by doctors at Augustana Hospital.

That afternoon at about 4:30 Claude and some friends were hanging around near the corner of Hamilton and Cornelia. Three plainclothes detectives drove by in an unmarked car and told them to get off the corner and then they drove off. Only minutes later, the same car came back, speeding down the street and coming right at the group of boys. They panicked and ran away - afraid they would be arrested for nothing.

The three detectives chased them and caught Claude Bailey in the gangway at 3505 N. Hoyne. There they beat Claude's eye out. They then took him to Martha Washington Hospital. But Martha Washington wasn't equipped to deal with his eye injury, so he was taken to Augustana. There the doctors described his eye as totally demolished and took it out.

Why were these detectives chasing Claude in the first place? An elderly woman in the area was knocked down and her purse was stolen. Local patrolmen say that a call went out to every police car in the area giving the description of a 30 year old man with long hair, a goatee, wearing a blue coat and checkered pants. Claude was wearing a blue coat that day, but nothing else fits his description.

He doesn't have long hair or a goatee; he is only 14 years old and he was wearing solid-colored pants. It's hard to see how the color of his coat could make these detectives so sure that they had to come screeching up to the group of boys. But what is even harder to understand is how someone who had just been told to move on by three detectives can go rob someone in broad daylight, and then return to the same spot to hang around?

That's not very likely, and we could say more. We can point out that Claude Bailey is a freshman at Lane who was waiting for a ride to work that afternoon. These boys had every right in the world to be hanging around by Audubon School yard. Also, Claude Bailey has no police record at all. But the main point is that Claude is blind in one eye - and no one can replace that loss to him and his family.

Witnesses saw Claude run into the gangway on Hoyne St. being chased by one detective, and at the same time another detective ran in through the back, trapping Claude. Then they beat Claude and dragged him to their car and drove off. Claude's head was covered with blood and the men who had beaten him did not even identify themselves as police (they were wearing plain clothes) to the people standing around. Most police at this point would yell that they are police officers and tell everyone to go home. But they obviously didn't want anyone to know who they were. We have reports from friends of Claude's that when these detectives brought Claude to Martha Washington Hospital, they tried to leave him there, just dump him at the hospital, but the hospital workers demanded that they leave their names and other information.

Members of the Chicago Police Department are now under indictment and investigation for other such cases of brutality, for extorting taverns, taking bribes and pay-offs, dealing narcotics in the neighborhoods, and to top it off, when some police have been caught committing such crimes, other members of the police department come to their aid and help cover up or distort the facts. All this runs deep, because at the same time, the police still are unwilling to answer to the people about their actions.

We tried to find out the names of the officers involved and what actions are being taken against them on Claude's behalf, but the police would give us no information at all.

We have to begin to take some steps to make sure that this doesn't happen again. We demand to know the names of the officers involved and their present status in the department (whether they have been suspended and charged). We demand that they should be charged with assault and battery on Claude Bailey, just as any grown man who would take the eye of a young boy should be. And we feel that they have proven beyond a doubt that they are unfit to patrol the people and deal with the people's problems ("Serve and Protect"). We demand that they be permanently fired from any police work.

ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE

DIVERSEY/CLYBOURN PROJECTS

"PUBLICITY STUNT" DOPE RAID

BROTHERS & SISTERS FROM THE PROJECTS AT CLYBOURN & DIVERSEY.

On Friday, June 1st, at 8 P.M., the Chicago Police Department conducted a dope raid on the Clybourn-Diversey projects. For three weeks previously, the police had undercover agents (men and women, blacks and whites) trying to buy dope and set up the raid. There was also an unmarked van, with a T.V. crew inside, parked on Clybourn at different times. By June 1st, the police felt confident that at 8 P.M. on Friday night (payday), they could make a big haul.

So with all the suspense of the "French Connection" the police came screeching up to the tavern on Clybourn, waving their guns around and arresting everyone in sight. Caught by surprise, no one resisted, but just stood around watching. Because of the T.V. cameras, the police tried to make it look very dramatic. As the camera focussed on each cop, they would in turn do some show-off act. One cop yelled at everyone to lay on the grass; another cop dropped to his knee in firing position, pointed his gun into the tavern, and yelled at a group of people who were already standing still to "Freeze right there".

Altogether, 29 people were arrested – four for dealing dope and the other 25 for disorderly conduct. The police said they were disorderly because they were all waiting there to cop dope. The police told the T.V. and newspapers that they had just broken the biggest dope ring on the North Side – a network they claimed deals $5,000 to $10,000 worth of dope per day to as far away as Rockford. For the next two days that story flashed all over the news.

But what dope was actually seized in the big raid? One reefer and a $50 bag of heroin. That comes to $50 worth of dope – not quite the biggest dope bust in history. These cops were so mad about it, that they beat up some of the brothers, one by one, at the station, trying to find out where they could find more dope.

This bust was a total hoax and a publicity stunt. The purpose wasn't to arrest pushers in order to stop the flow of drugs into the community. In fact, this bust was carried out for the opposite reason. This overly dramatic stunt was done in order to make the public think that something is being done about the drug problem. The police haven't found - and most likely won't find - the big-time pushers who are getting rich off the people's drug habits.

PONTIAC PRISON

INMATE-COMMUNITY CONFERENCE ON "UNITY"

Many gangs, clubs, and groups of people that used to fight each other are now beginning to unify and get themselves together. This same process is going on in the prisons as well as on the streets.

Last December, at Pontiac Prison, there was a fight between members of the Disciples and Conservative ViceLords. The result of this fight was that 2 inmates were killed and the entire prison was put on deadlock, which means that for several months no one got out of their cells.

After things calmed down, some of the inmates got together and formed a coalition to make sure that the December events would not be repeated. They designed and printed a poster that urged unity and distributed it throughout the prison.

The goal of the coalition was to open up the prison to the community, involve the community in the prison, and make the prison accountable to the community. In order to reach this goal the coalition sponsored an Inmate-Community Conference on Sunday, June 3rd. The Conference started off with a tour of the prison conducted by the inmates. After the tour, the inmates put on an assembly which was dedicated to the memory of Malcolm X, George Jackson, and the Attica Brothers. The assembly was followed by a series of workshops which were also thought up and run by the inmates.

The coalition did not think of the Conference as a one shot deal and before the day was over the coalition had received promises from the community representatives that a meeting would be held in the near future to plan the next Conference!

The work and determination of the people of the Pilsen community has shown that power belongs to the people.

A PEOPLE'S VICTORY AT FROEBEL H.S.

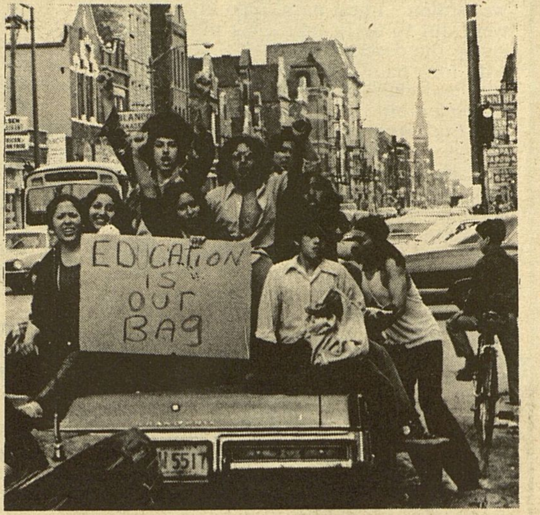
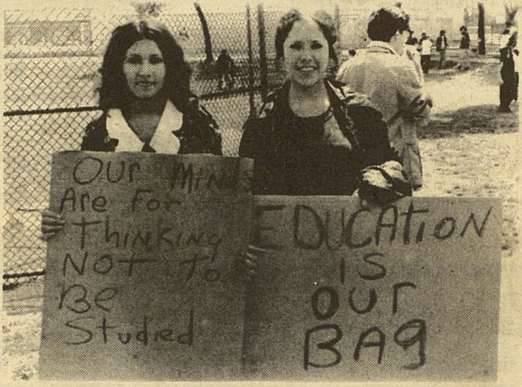
Froebel High School is a branch of Harrison H.S. located at 2021 W. 21st St. in the heart of the Pilsen community. It is a small school with an enrollment of about 400 students. The student body is almost entirely Chicano. The building itself is very old and deteriorating; modern teaching facilities are lacking, and the "education" supplied there is almost totally irrelevent to the lives of the Chicano people of the community. Of course the Board of Education is not concerned with what communities think of the "educational" services that it provides. The main thing that they are concerned about is cutting down on costs and keeping happy the powerful rich people who run the city. So instead of trying to make Froebel a better school for its Chicano students, the Board decided that the best way to deal with the situation was to close down Froebel next Fall and send its students to Harrison – an already overcrowded school which is outside the neighborhood.

For a long time the people of Pilsen had been asking for a new high school to be built in their neighborhood to serve the needs of the community. When the people learned that the Board had no intention of building a new school there, they knew they had to take action. The closing of Froebel would not help solve any of the problems which faced the community and the people united to oppose it and to demand a new school of their own.

On Monday, June 4th, students boycotted classes and members of the community demonstrated in a spirited but peaceful manner in front of the school. When parents and students went inside the school to demand that it be both kept open and made to serve the needs of the community the police were summoned. Several people were injured and arrested when the police attacked and the people fought to defend themselves. This attack only served to further unite the people and make them more determined to gain control of their school.

The boycott continued on Tuesday. This time several hundred police were in the area of Froebel to enforce "law and order" for the school board. Once again the police molested and harrassed the people. Finally people grew tired of the treatment they were receiving and they began to march away from Froebel down 18th St. As they traveled down 18th St., more and more people joined in. The people showed a lot of unity and discipline on the march – they stayed together and no damage was done to property. The march finally ended in Dvorak Park at May and Cullerton where a rally and mass meeting was held. The people planned to keep up the pressure until their demands were met.





Our Minds Are For Thinking Not To Be Studied
EDUCATION IS OUR BAG

On Thursday, June 7, people began a long march from Harrison Park to the Board of Education. All along the way people chanted and sang. When they reached the Loop their march drew the attention of shoppers and workers. Several times the police tried to direct the marchers to go where they would be seen by only a few people, but the marchers were determined to do it the way they had planned and the police backed off when they sat down momentarily. As they marched up State St. in the early afternoon many people in the Loop gave them encouragement and expressed their support. Finally the people gathered in front of the Board of Education while a delegation of representatives went inside to negotiate their demands. The result of that meeting was inconsclusive.

On Friday a group from Pilsen once again went to the Board to demand a new school and to keep Froebel open until the new school was ready. Representatives of the Board once again tried to put the people off but they finally realized that the Chicano community was not going to give in. So later that day the Board agreed not to close down Froebel and they also said that they would "consider" a new school for the community. The people had made the school board back down.

The main thing that had brought about this victory was the unity of the people in the community. They knew that a new school is needed and they are still determined to force the school board to build it. The unity of the people is probably best shown by the fact that the clubs in the neighborhood had recently worked out a peace treaty and club members were working together to build their community. As one brother from Dvorak Park said about the Tuesday march, "If all the people in clubs in this march were wearing their sweaters, this would look like a rainbow." Among the clubs working to serve their community were Ambrose, Bishops, For Brothers Only, Keys, Kool Gang, Latin Counts, Latin Kings, Morgan Dueces, Ridgeway Lords, Satan's Disciples and Spartans. Their work and determination along with the work and determination of other community organizations, such as La Raza Unida, and the people of Pilsen has shown that power belongs to the people.

Letter From ILLINOIS MASONIC

Dear Rising Up Angry,

Some of the nurses at Illinois Masonic Hospital are obviously only doing that job because the pay is good and not because they care about people. I was in Masonic a few weeks ago for an operation when I had the "pleasure" of meeting a few such nurses.

One morning a nurse accidentally broke a thermometer on the floor in my room. This nurse obviously never reported it to housekeeping, the janitorial department, because later the next day I got a piece of glass in my hand while lifting my feet into bed. (I had a hernia operation so it was hard to lift my legs without using my hands.) Then I looked for glass on the floor and picked up the large pieces of the thermometer.

When I called a nurse, she told me that nothing could be done about the glass until the next day. And when I went to see the head nurse about it, this nurse tried to make me look like a liar by saying, "I didn't see any glass." As I had expected, the head nurse, Miss Seaberg, didn't think that nurses should be responsible for the care and safety of patients either; she told me to put on some shoes!

The next thing to do was to call the Director of Nurses. The Director of Nurses told me that she would call housekeeping, but after waiting a while I got to thinking – if nurses and head nurses don't care about anybody, why should Director of Nurses care?

I called housekeeping myself and someone came within a few minutes! This brother from housekeeping probably could have taken his time about it, but he didn't. Although some nurses do care about people, there are those who let their position go to their head and as a result, the people from housekeeping care more about the patients than some surses do, and it's a nurse's job to care about people!

...MORE POLICE HARASSMENT

Addison Rocks

This spring, like any other spring, many sisters and brothers from all over the north side come together for good times at Addison Rocks. And wherever young people gather to have a good time, there are some cops who show up and try to spoil it. On Thursday afternoon, May 31st, a lot of people were hanging out, digging the people and the lake, when cops from the 19th District showed up. They went up to one brother and said "Are you drinking beer?" He said no, but they decided to get tough and said "We're giving everyone five minutes to get out of here." The people collectively said "we won't leave;" "we don't have to leave;" "it's a public park and we've got every right to be here." When he blew a whistle, the cops busted brother Rick Oliver from P.B.C. They must think it's against the law to blow a whistle at the beach. When brother Rick escaped from the pigs' grip, they recaptured him and took him to 19th District where they slapped him around.

Later that night people were again relaxing at the rocks, when officers Fraser, Pasternak and Martinez showed up and told everyone that they had to leave. Dig that: 8:30 at night, people went to school or worked all day, relaxing at the rocks, and they're told to leave, like the rocks belong to these three cops. A number of people got into a heavy discussion with these cops, telling them they ought to show a little more respect for the people and to quit acting like John Wayne. Fraser said people litter and that you're not allowed to drink at the beach; but he had no answer for why the cops would come hassle a whole lot of young people, but completely ignored the thousands upon thousands of Chicago families who use the beaches and parks and consume plenty of beer.

Addison Rocks belongs to the people. The people must do their part in keeping it clean, so the city should provide more trash cans (in a spot where the people can use them, because that's where they're needed), and spend less of the tax payers money sending cops around bothering the people who are doing no more than enjoying each other and getting spirits up in order to deal with work, school, and all the other day-to-day hassles that we all have to contend with.

Addison and Wilton

Friday night, May 25th, the police arrested 11 brothers and sisters near a tavern on Addison and Wilton. It cost a night of hardship and a lot of money to give them their freedom – but people from the motorcycle club, Sons of the Devil, got them all out.

Saturday, everybody was at the bar having a good time and suddenly there were cops everywhere like storm troopers. They walked in like they owned the place and said they were hunting for a gang fight. Actually, they had come to start one.

Before they left one cop, dressed like a hippie, started screaming about how he wanted to put everyone away, and he was going to close the place. The cops grabbed a brother and jabbed a club in his side. His wife tried to stop them as they dragged him outside and beat him up. Then the five or six more cops who were waiting outside started pouring in. They ordered people around, shut off the music and threatened everybody. One brother demanded to know the hippie–pig's badge number, and the pigs got more up-tight and nastier. They didn't dare identify themselves, they just shoved their way out.

People have to fight for the right to enjoy themselves and have fun. It isn't the people on the streets who are our enemy. It's people who think, because they have a badge, or say they do, that they are going to run it.

ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE

California and Nelson

Tonight, June 7th, another case of police harassment and brutality. This time on the corner of Nelson and California.

A group of young people from the neighborhood were standing on the corner, talking about the 4th of July picnic and about the constant police harassment. One person started writing an article for the paper about it and like the devil himself was listening, Squad Car 8286 pulls up and two officers jump out. One stood back while the other, Officer Drewganis, Badge No. 12750 came up screaming and swearing in people's faces, jerking cigarettes out of people's hands, demanding everybody's ages, and grabbing things out of people's cars and throwing them on the ground – acting like the neighborhood bully.

When we questioned him why he was pushing us around as we were standing around peacefully talking, when people were out getting killed, he told us not to be telling him what his job was and that we had five minutes to clear the corner or "everybody would be housed."

They drove around the block, came back, and started pushing people around. Other squad cars and a paddy wagon showed up. They all jumped out and came running up. That's when it started.

Bill Dow had come across the street to pick up his girlfriend, Joyce, from babysitting at 2750 W. Nelson. When the police picked out some of the older guys to arrest, Bill was one. His uncle Don Kurowski, who lived on the block, came up to find out what the hassle was. Four policemen jumped him, choked him, beat on him with a nightstick, and threw him in the wagon. John Hendricks, who was sitting outside his apartment at 2750 W. Nelson, tried explaining that Joyce had been caring for his children. They pushed him up against the wall and told him to shut up or he'd get busted, it didn't matter if he lived there. They did arrest Ron Frys and Fred Lindorger.

The mother of one of the guys arrested was sitting in a car nearby. She began to shake and had trouble breathing. When a neighbor told the police that she looked like she was going to have a heart attack (she has had two previous strokes), he told her "Fuck her, call a hospital." (Another cop helped out then.)

Most people didn't like what happened; they saw no sense in it. A few people, though, thought it was alright that the young people were arrested for standing on the corner. The problem is that there are no places for young people to go. There should be recreational activities and facilities provided in the parks for everyone. We go there and we're busted. We go in our schoolyards and we're busted. We go on the corner and we're busted. All citizens should be served and protected, not harassed and beaten.

This is just one more story of police harassment and brutality. We need to be able to control such people who "serve and protect." All of us need to work together to make our community safe and give adequate services for its citizens.

POWER TO THE YOUNG AND OLD WHO STAND AND WIN TOGETHER!

RUA PROGRAMS TO SERVE THE PEOPLE

FREE HEALTH CARE: The Fritzi Englestein Free People's Health Center at 2747 N. Wilton Avenue is a Rising Up Angry Program. The Clinic provides free medical care (due to limited facilities) mainly in the Clinic's neighborhood. When patients cannot be treated at the Clinic, we send patient advocates with them to other medical institutions to make sure they get good care. The Clinic is open on:

TUESDAY NIGHTS - 6 to 9 p.m.
WEDNESDAY NIGHTS - 6 to 9 p.m.

For information call 348-8578 during the Clinic hours.

LEGAL PROGRAM: Our Legal Program deals with criminal cases, housing, welfare, civil cases, divorce, military, consumer fraud, labor law, or just hassles of any kind with the law. Our lawyers are inexpensive and sometimes free. No one is turned away for lack of money. There are 3 Legal Clinics:

WE NEED
COMMUNITY CONTROL OF THE POLICE

Crime is a problem that is on the increase in Chicago as well as every other major city in the country. There are many theories as to how this problem can be stopped. Nixon, Daley, and all the other law n' order right wing maniacs propose that the police should be given more men, more money, more weapons, and more power. In other words, a police state.

This trend has already begun. The Chicago Police Department has more than 13,000 men with a budget of over $235 million. The amount of men and money for police has increased every year, but along with this has been an increase in the number of crimes. It seems that when the police have more power, they do a worse job.

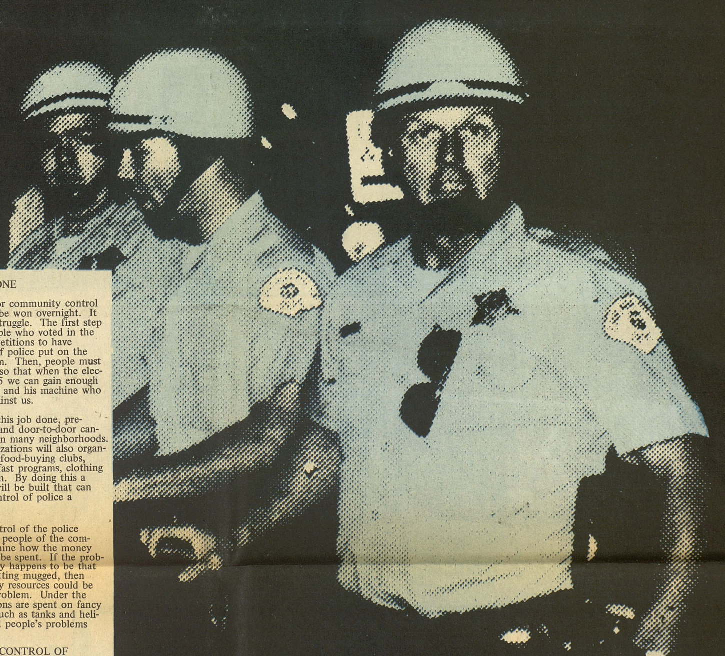
The crime increase includes individual vs. individual crimes such as muggings, rapes, murders and robberies; but it also includes such crimes as housing code violations, consumer fraud, and overpriced food and clothing. The greatest increase in crime, however, is among the police themselves. Since March 1972, more than 70 policemen have been indicted and the number is growing. These crimes include taking bribes from traffic violators, charging protection fees from tavern owners, selling narcotics, and murder. So the Chicago Police Department has thus proven not only that it cannot stop crime but that they themselves are part of the problem.

The Chicago Police Department kills more people than any other police department in the country. Their general attitude toward the people is one of arrogance and contempt. Add to this the fact that it is the police who investigate their own crimes and you can see that the Chicago Police Department as it is presently organized is a band of outlaws that is responsible to no one but the few rich and corrupt businessmen and politicians who control all the institutions that affect our lives.

COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE COULD SOLVE MANY OF THESE PROBLEMS

One problem with the police is that they tend to be brutal, insensitive, and inhumane. This is true for a number of reasons. First of all, many of the police are unqualified (to put it mildly). They get their jobs because they know somebody in the Daley machine. Testing and so forth have very little to do with who gets hired so quite often police get hired who not only can't read and write, but they have psychological problems such as deep hatred for people. If the police were controlled by the community, only the most competent people would be hired and any display of incompetence would result in the officer being fired.

Another reason that the police are brutal and insensitive to the needs of the community is that the cop on the beat doesn't live in the neighborhood where he's working. Many Chicago policemen don't even live in the city. If each policeman worked in the neighborhood where he and his family and friends all live, then he'd be more likely to treat people with some respect.



HOW IT CAN BE DONE

The campaign for community control of the police cannot be won overnight. It will be a long, hard struggle. The first step is to get 175,000 people who voted in the last election to sign petitions to have community control of police put on the ballot as a referendum. Then, people must be registered to vote so that when the election comes up in 1975 we can gain enough votes to defeat Daley and his machine who will be organizing against us.

In order to get this job done, precincts will be set up and door-to-door canvassing will be done in many neighborhoods. These precinct organizations will also organize programs such as food-buying clubs, health centers, breakfast programs, clothing programs and so forth. By doing this a people's movement will be built that can make community control of police a reality.

Community control of the police would mean that the people of the community would determine how the money for the police would be spent. If the problem in the community happens to be that senior citizens are getting mugged, then manpower and money resources could be spent to solve that problem. Under the present system, millions are spent on fancy anti-riot equipment such as tanks and helicopters while the real people's problems are being ignored.

Many Chicago policemen don't even live in the city. If each policeman worked in the neighborhood where he and his family and friends all live, then he'd be more likely to treat people with some respect.

By working in his own community the policeman would be more likely to stop the crimes that are hurting the people instead of spending his time giving traffic tickets for a missing tail light or harassing young people who aren't bothering anyone. If a rapist in the neighborhood is threatening the officer's mother, wife, and daughter, then he'll be more likely to try his best to find this criminal. If a slumlord is violating the housing code in his own neighborhood then it is more likely that the police will enforce this law. The same goes for local businessmen who sell rotten meat and big dope pushers who get our people strung out.

make community control of police a reality.

Community control of the police would mean that the people of the community would determine how the money for the police would be spent. If the problem in the community happens to be that senior citizens are getting mugged, then manpower and money resources could be spent to solve that problem. Under the present system, millions are spent on fancy anti-riot equipment such as tanks and helicopters while the real people's problems are being ignored.

HOW COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE WOULD WORK

On June 1 and 2 there was a Conference for Community Control of Police that was sponsored by the Black Panther Party and other community organizations from many areas and neighborhoods around the city. This included Black, White, Latin, Asian-American, and Native-American people who all face similar problems with the police. At this conference a draft ordinance was drawn up to lay out the basic principles of community control of police. This ordinance is reprinted below.

ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE

"This ordinance shall transfer the powers of supervising and administering the Chicago Police Department and all its affairs to the citizens of Chicago at large through the following structures and provisions."

I. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS A CITIZEN ELECTED STRUCTURE TO DEAL WITH BOTH THE PARTICULAR PROBLEMS OF EACH OF OUR COMMUNITIES AND THE GENERAL PROBLEMS WE FACE TOGETHER IN THE CITY OF CHICAGO."

A. Structure

1. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS citizen boards in each police district chosen in low budget, non-partisan elections.

   a. District board members will live in the area, be 18 years or older, hold no other public office, nor serve at the same time on the Chicago Police force.
   b. Special non-partisan elections will be low budget with a small amount of city funds provided to each candidate for their campaign to insure that wealth is not a criteria for getting elected.
   c. The District Boards will oversee police affairs in their area.

2. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS 2 community elected representatives from each local district to serve on a city wide police commission.

   a. The Citywide Police Commission will have 2 representatives from each district. One will be the president of each local board and the other a citizen elected at large from each district.
   b. The Citywide Police Commission will co-ordinate citywide police functions.

3. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS the public will have access to records of meetings and finances and will participate fully.

   a. All meetings will be public. Special measures (like the time and place, full right to speak at meetings, etc.) will insure full citizen participation. Citizens may circulate petitions to call special meetings when they deem necessary.
   b. All records of meetings and financial reports will be readily available to the public on a regular monthly basis.
   c. The right of all citizens to privacy shall be well guarded.

II. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS THAT CITIZEN ELECTED BODIES WILL BE RESPONSIVE AND RESPONSIBLE TO THE COMMUNITIES.

A. Functions—The powers and duties of the District Board.

"Each district board shall set policy, procedures, and regulations with respect to all affairs of the police in its district that will insure the safety, justice, and general well being of the citizenry of each district and the general citizenry of the city of Chicago."

1. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS that local district boards have fiscal (money) powers.

   a. Each board will submit a yearly budget to the Citywide Commission for their district.

2. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS that local district boards have personnel (hiring, firing, transferring, etc.) powers.

   a. Each district board will select a district commander who has at least five years of police experience and resides (lives) in the district.
   b. Each district board will review the personnel selected by the district commander with the power to disapprove.

3. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS that police live in the district where they work so that they may be more sensitive to the needs of their community.

4. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS that local district boards will hold public hearings and be able to act on grievances.

   a. Each board will hear citizen grievances against the police and act on them according to guidelines established by the Citywide Commission.
   b. Each district board will likewise hear suggestions and complaints about the administration of police affairs from Police Department employees.

B. The Powers and Duties of the Citywide Commission.

"The citywide Police Commission establishes uniform citywide regulations which do not interfere with the local boards and resolves any possible conflicts between districts."

1. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS that the citywide commission has fiscal (money) power.

   a. They will submit a yearly budget to the city council and allocate money as needed to the district boards and to citywide departments.

2. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS that the Citywide Commission has personnel powers.

   a. The Citywide Commission will appoint a co-ordinator of police with considerable experience to oversee inter-district functions and co-ordinate citywide agencies like traffic and training.
   b. The Citywide Commission shall set guidelines for hiring, firing, disciplining, transferring and promoting police without interfering with powers of the local boards.

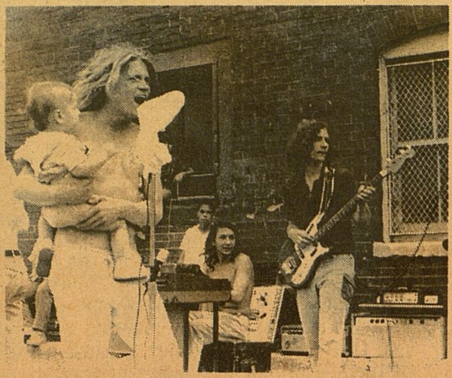
3. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS that the Citywide Commission will co-ordinate necessary functions and set general policy guidelines and procedures.

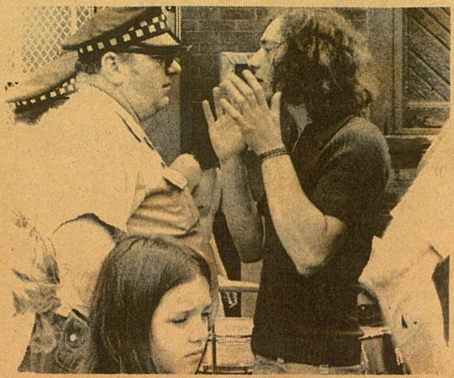
   a. The Citywide Commission will set uniform grievance procedures and hear unresolved disputes from the local boards.
   b. The Citywide Commission will set policies for training and recruiting police.
   c. The Citywide Commission will co-ordinate communication between local boards.

4. COMMUNITY CONTROL OF POLICE MEANS that the Citywide Commission will hear any charges of conflict of interest or failure to make full disclosure of finances against any local or Citywide Commission member.

There will be a gradual transition (not to exceed two years) from the present police structure to Community Control of Police

FATSO MEMORIAL DAY AT PBC





On Sunday, June 3rd, the annual Frank Christoldolos Memorial Day was held in Burley Schoolyard to celebrate Frank's 20th birthday. The event was organized by the sisters and brothers of P.B.C., the community that Frank was from.

Brother Frank played drums for TAXI, a neighborhood band that plays for the people. Frank also loved and respected people, he was always friendly and had a good word for everybody. Everybody that knew Frank dug him. But like any neighborhood, there was a lot of bad dope around and Frank died of an overdose on March 26, 1972.

Sunday start ed to be a nice day with over 100 people from all over showed up. The people's band, TAXI, provided the music and everybody had a good time dancing and digging the jams. The bummer was that the police seeing everybody having a good time decided that this was bad. They showed up in force. This lieutenant said that we were creating a disturbance and that we would all be arrested if it continued. But when the people heard that the police were shutting things down they yelled that they weren't going. The police got a little uptight and negotiated to let everybody stay and keep the music going. But at the same time, they called for reinforcements and later they shut it down. Nobody was busted but several people were beaten up by the police.

This is just another example how the police quash the people. When people get together they break it apart. Because when people get it together they have power.

ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE

NEW POPES OF KOLMAR PARK SERVE THE PEOPLE

During the past several weeks, members of the Kolmar Popes have been painting over wall-paintings that they and other clubs had made on neighborhood walls in the past. For some time now they have been receiving considerable harassment from certain members of the 17th district police force. Some meetings were called to try and resolve some of the contradictions between the young people in the neighborhood and the police. These didn't go too well because the lieutenant involved treated the brothers like kids, demanded to know everyone's names – wanted everything but didn't want to give anything, and tried to dig up all the old dirt from the neighborhood.

So, the Kolmar Popes, aided by some of the members of the Brands Park and Jefferson Park Popes, decided on their own campaign of cleaning up the neighborhood walls to improve their situation in the neighborhood. With the help of people in the neighborhood and the Belding-Kolmar Civic Organization, they issued a leaflet to the people of the neighborhood informing them that if they had any spray-can defacement on their buildings that members of the Popes would provide paint and labor to cover it up. And they did just that; while many people didn't seem to care about the club names on the walls, some did. And the Popes painted their walls and placed signs saying, "this project was carried out by the NEW POPES". One older woman in the community, after getting her garage painted, gave a fist and said Pope thang!

The Popes told Rising Up Angry that things are better in the neighborhood now, the police have stopped bothering us as much, and we're talking about organizing a community picnic with live music in the park.

FULLERTON & KEDZIE

SUCCESSFUL RENT STRIKE

THE MARIE TORRES FAMILY AND SOME OF THE OTHER TENANTS FROM THIS RUN-DOWN BUILDING AT MEDILL & KEDZIE JOINED A TENANT'S UNION AND STARTED A RENT STRIKE. THEY HAVE FINALLY FORCED THE LANDLORD TO MAKE BADLY NEEDED REPAIRS.

Many people are having a very difficult time finding apartments. Those that have apartments find it nearly impossible to get a landlord to make repairs. A group of tenants at Kedzie and Medill have recently gotten together to make sure that repairs will be made.

It began last summer when Marie Torres, her eleven children and invalid mother had no place to live. They pitched a tent and camped in Humboldt Park. Embarrassed city officials quickly found a place for the family to stay. But their problems were far from over.

The apartment that the city found for the family had leaky plumbing, faulty outlets, roaches and mice, peeling paint, no garbage service and no hot water. Worse yet, there was a severe gas leakage and broken windows without even screens. For this, the landlord charged $170, but refused to make any repairs.

Instead of just wishing things would get better, Marie Torres acted – getting together other families in the building that had similar problems. Together they formed a Tenant Union (with the help of the Spanish Coalition for Housing), to which 14 families already belong.

When a new family joins the Tenant Union, they discuss the minimum repairs needed to their apartment. All rent money is paid to a bank account, and no rent money goes to the landlord until conditions are improved in all the apartments. The families are also meeting with tenants from other buildings in the neighborhood to help them organize similar rent strikes.

Since the rent strike began, the landlord has suddenly become much more friendly and co-operative. Marie Torres has hot water for the first time in a year and general repairs have been started throughout the building. The determination of Marie Torres, and the success of the rent strike of the Tenant's Union proves that the strength and unity of the people is a powerful weapon in fighting for decent housing.

people. These greedy slumlords, the crooked building inspectors who accept the bribes, the corrupt judges that allow this to continue, the cops that look the other way, and all the others who take part in these crimes, should be sent to jail. Even worse, they should be forced to live in one of these buildings with nothing to eat but lead paint. And Mayor Daley, who says, "There are no slums in Chicago ", should live there too - and as the plaster falls on his head and the building burns, let the dishonorable Mayor say there are no slums.

Brother Rafael Zorro Gonzales Killed

We regret to announce the death of a Puerto Rican brother. Rafael Gonzales, known to many as Zorro Rafael, was a member of the Sons of the Devils, a motorcycle club on the north side of Chicago. Rafael was found shot and beaten in a northwest side alley. Immediately, members of the club and friends took to the streets to collect money to help brother Rafael's family.

It's the decadent and imperialist society that we live in that drives brothers to kill brothers. It's clear that brother Zorro would be alive today if we all understood each other better and worked collectively to change our lives.

Brother Zorro will keep on living in the hearts of the brothers and sisters who knew him.

LAKEVIEW

TENANTS FIGHT RENT INCREASE

We live in Lakeview near Wrigley Field. Recently there have been many luxury apartment buildings going up in the area and it's becoming a "fashionable" place to live – New Town. What this means is that the landlords jack up the rents and do some cheap improvements so they can attract richer tenants. People who can't afford the new rents are being forced to move out.

Our building has 66 apartments in it, 1½ or three rooms in size, and most of the tenants are senior citizens, over 65 years old and living alone.

When the building was sold a few months ago, the new landlord, James O. Hines, promised not to raise the rents, which ranged from $60 to $72 a month. However, in May, we all got notices under our doors informing us that the rents had gone up to $100 or $110 as of June 1. This comes out to an increase of 43 to 67 per cent. A couple of people were told to pay the increase in May.

Everybody in the building got upset, and a few of us decided to get together and have a meeting to discuss what to do. We also invited the landlord to come so we could tell him what we thought about his rent increase. At the meeting people said they couldn't afford it because most of them live on social security, which is hardly enough to get by on. The landlord said that if the tenants are that poor we should apply for a rent subsidy from the Chicago Housing Authority. In a grand gesture of "generosity" he told us that he'd let the rent stay the same in the month of June for those tenants who applied for the CHA subsidy.

Hines also promised to fix up the building which is in need of repair. Since then he's made a few improvements on the outside of the building, but he's done nothing about the peeling paint, broken plaster, etc., on the inside.

This meeting showed Hines that we are mad and are not going to let him push us into the street. No one believed him when he told us he was doing us a "favor" by not raising our rents to the "average" New Town rent! We left the meeting resolved to fight.

Our spirit made the landlord so scared that he went around trying to make deals with each person individually, promising to fix up apartments. We had another meeting (without Hines) and decided that everybody should get a "deal" for lower rent – we set the rent standards.

Hines tries to act like the good guy. He's young and boyish looking and tries to make the older women look on him as a son. He says he's doing all he can to keep the senior citizens in the building, trying to be "fair". But out of the other side of his mouth he told one of us that he doesn't have to be so nice. He could have people evicted and leave the city, hire contractors to gut and remodel the building and rent it for much more – he has done it before! Hines was supposed to have another meeting with us last week, but he "couldn't make it" and set a new date.

The people in this building are sticking together. On June 1, almost everybody paid the old rent. We got a lawyer and are forming a tenants association. The next meeting that the landlord doesn't show up at, we'll have on the front lawn of his home.

Only through staying together can we fight the greedy landlords who are pushing us out of our community.

"It's out of my hands"

By Mr. Toad

The shop was like a sweat box,
The heat was ninety-three.
I had a little grievance,
As anyone could see.

I went to see the foreman
And called to him by name.
I asked him could he open up
That nailed-down window pane?
But my boss said,
"It's out of my hands." —

I asked to see my steward,
And the boss he did agree.
But for two more days,
hide nor hair
Of either did I see.

I finally caught my foreman
As he was running by.
He said my message was delivered
To the proper guy.
And now it was out of his hands.

The steward, when I saw him,
Looked both shrewd and wise,
And told me how much more there was
Than seemed to meet the eyes.

He quoted certain clauses,
Interpretations too.
Said that writing up a grievance
Was all that he could do.
Then it was out of his hands.

The Committeeman next came around,
Him I had never met.
The rest is strictly rumor
For I haven't met him yet.

But the story when I got it,
At the third or second hand,
After many weeks of waiting,
I was made to understand —
It was out of his hands.

The next thing that I heard of,
Through the grapevine, tried and true,
It had reached the shop committee,
They'd see what they could do.

The days were getting shorter,
And fall was drawing near,
When their long-delayed decision
I finally got to hear.
It was out of their hands.

I wish I could say
That this ended my ditty
But my case was referred To the Screening Committee.

I was told I was lucky,
After months had gone by
That my grievance had not
Just been left there to die.
But it was now
out of their hands.

The Umpire considered
And pondered and thought.
He was honest and upright
And could not be bought.

Of one hundred grievances
We lost ninety-nine.
But the one that was salvaged
Turned out to be mine.

The window was opennd
On a cold wintry day.
I shivered and shook
Till I thought I'd give way.

I went to the foreman
And called him by name,
And asked him to shut
That damned window pane.

But he said,
"It's out of my hands."

ST. LOUIS F.O.A.

On May 11, Friends of Angry in St. Louis held its first People's Dance to raise money for the Bention Park Community Center which is opening up at 2847 McNair. There was a real good turnout — about 200 sisters and brothers turned out to listen to some fine music and have a good time.

The dance was really a good thing because a lot of people got together who don't usually get together. But there were some problems, also. Some brothers got a little too high and several fights broke out. Most people didn't get freaked out, they stayed cool and helped to break up the fights. Even the partners of brothers who were fighting helped to calm down the people who were fighting.

Friends of Angry would like to thank all the people who came to the dance, and especially all those who helped to cool out fights for making the dance a success. Most everybody had a good time and we can see that fighting amonst ourselves does us no good at all. With the lessons that we learned, we're sure that the next People's Dance will really be a blast, with no hassles.

SAIGON BANS RED & BLUE CLOTH

No red or blue cloth may be manufactured or imported into South Vietnam according to a new law decreed by the Saigon government of General Nguyen Van Thieu. Any red or blue cloth around must immediately be dyed another color, or Thier's police will seize the cloth and arrest the owner.

Red and blue are the main colors in the flag of the Proviional Revolutionary Government (the so-called Vietcong). Thieu is afraid that South Vietnamese citizens might make PRG flags out of the cloth to show they prefer the revolutionary government to his administration.

Rugama (20) was a member of the Sandino National Liberation Front in Nicaragua. He and another comrade were trapped in a house in the city of Managua in January 1970. The house was surrounded by troops and war material. The two men put up a courageous fight which lasted several hours. When their ammunition ran out, the army finished them off.

GI LETTERS

LACKLAND AIR FORCE BASE, TEXAS

Dear Rising Up Angry,

I don't know whether my recent experiences in the Air Force would be of any value to you, but I thought I might let you know.

At Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas, millions of basic trainees are having their rights violated under the guise of "basic training". The luggage of each new group of trainees is searched for such contraband as knives, food, books, etc. without warrants, and without asking permission. Even if it was asked, a new trainee is in no position to make a free choice, as he is so intimidated by the strangeness of military life.

Air Force recruiters advertise basic training as lasting six weeks but when a trainee arrives, he learns that he may be kept in basic as long as the Training Instructors wish (up to twelve weeks). Sick people are constantly maltreated. A sick man must first get his training instructors to fill out an appointment slip, and if the T.I. (Training Instructor) makes any mistake, the Sergeant in the orderly room (the next step) will not allow him to go. The Sergeants have no medical training, and could conceivably turn back a man who would be desperately in need of attention. A sick man is given no choice as to what doctor he may have or which hospital he may go to. But by far the worst treated are those who are up for discharge (those who failed the training).

They are kept waiting for as long as two weeks, performing the most monotonous labor – picking up cigarette butts and sweeping walks for seven hours a day. The monotony is killing. No one knows when they will leave and the uncertainty tears at men's minds. In my case the pressure was so great I began to hallucinate, yet they still would not let me leave. I was on the verge of suicide when my orders finally arrived.

Many Air Force people are of the opinion that it is "chicken" to get discharged and ride dischargees unmercifully. These are only a few of the injustices I witnessed, the list could go on forever. I notice that you people sometimes do stories on injustice in the military. I suggest that you make your next target Lackland Air Force Base. You'll find a gold mine, believe me.

"SO FIRE ME"

GREAT LAKES NAVAL TRAINING CENTER, ILLINOIS

Dear Rising Up Angry,

About two weeks ago I got my first chance to read your fine newspaper. I'm from California and usually read the "Berkeley Barb".

I bought "Rising Up Angry" from a brother in Waukegan. There was an interesting, and I may note – true – article about the "New Navy" and Admiral Zumwalt. I have been looking all over the place to get some more copies of that particular issue, but no luck. Could you please send as many copies of that article as you can to me? We sure would appreciate it.

I have been in this joke "New Navy" for almost a year now. They offered me a diploma in electronics, printed by the very same men whose money-hungry hands also printed my draft card, so I find out. In my class, they try and indoctrinate us about how they want peace, but at the same time they show movies of how many bombs they have and how to immobilize the enemy on their own soil. I don't want anything to do with their wars. I can't stand their automatic, pushbutton, remote control society. And I can't tolerate this many people packed together. I'm trying to get out, but let me tell you it's hard!

Before I close this letter, I have one more thing to ask: where can I pick up Rising Up Angry all the time?

Thanks

ARGENTINA

FORD MOTORS FORCED TO REPAY THE PEOPLE

May was an important month for the people of Argentina. Ford Motor Company began payment of $1,000,000 to the Argentinian people. This is a tiny part of the enormous debt it owes for ripping off super profits from investments there. The $1,00000C is in the form of $180,000 worth of food, $400,000 to children's hospitals, 22 ambulances, $300,000 worth of school supplies – all distributed to the people.

Ford Motor Co. didn't do this out of the goodness of its super-business heart but because a guerilla group, the ERP, threatened to kill executives unless the debt was paid. Even though the U.S. State Department opposed paying the money (they didn't care if the executives were killed), Ford took the guerillas seriously because two of their executives had already been wounded by guerillas. This time the head of their Argentinian operations was threatened.

Other companies have not responded as responsibly. General Motors, the largest corporation in the world, has refused to rehire 1,000 workers it fired after threats from the ERP. Otis Elevator evacuated 10 executives and their families. Top executives of these giant corporations now travel with "rod squads" – 4 to 6 bodyguards, 24 hours a day.

The threats against Ford are part of a general struggle to force the giant foreign corporations to stop ripping off the country. Currently there are investments of $1.5 billion in Argentina. These investments are averaging 15% profits a year! The average worker gets $150 a month or $37.50 a week. Most get less. Inflation has been 27% since January 1. Unemployment is high and many people live in shantytowns. For many of these children, those packages from Ford were the first milk and cocoa they ever had in their lives.

In addition to the money from the Ford Motor Co. the people of Argentina got a new government. The new government promises to improve the conditions of the people. The first day of office, the new president, Campora, in response to massive demonstrations, released nearly 600 political prisoners who had been subjected to prison, torture, indefinite prison sentences and murder by the military generals who have run the country since 1955. Sixteen important political leaders were murdered in 1972 just like George Jackson. The government had said that they were trying to "escape."

These generals have run Argentina since they threw Juan Peron out. They never permitted a Peronist candidate to run because they knew he would win. Peron gave many things to the people, put limits on foreign investments, and helped the workers get organized. The Argentinian people love him. Their anger and actions against the generals finally forced an election to be held with a Peronist candidate. Despite massive vote fraud, he won.

Campora and the people of Argentina must now rebuild their country. Some of the plans include nationalization of some U.S. corporations so that all the profits don't leave the country. The victory of Campora in this election is a step toward building a better life for the people of Argentina.

WHAT'S GOING ON....

There's a lot going on. With the warm weather here the police are acting like pigs out of their cages. At the DEEP PURPLE AND BILLY PRESTON CONCERT on June 5th one brother, who was trying to sneak in, climbed to the window on the second floor. When he reached the window a cop opened it and pushed him off. The brother fell, hit a lantern on the wall, and broke his back as he fell to the ground. Then, about 10 uniformed cops from the 9th District beat him until he was unconscious and then pulled him into the paddy wagon by his hair . . .

At MORGAN PARK HIGH SCHOOL, THE ADDISON ROCKS, P.B.C., LLOYD PARK,and just about everywhere else, it's the same thing – pigs . . .

As if there's not enough trouble with the pigs, there's still a lot of people who are into fighting each other. Besides the usual foolish gang-banging, there's been a lot of racist fighting. Down at Kennedy High School, there's been a lot of this and we don't yet have all the facts so we really can't say what happened. But one thing, the people who yell racist comments and shout "White Power" are talking about a different kind of power than when we say "Power to the People." They're talking about white people having power over black people. We talk about power to all the people. The "White Power" slogans come from hate. The revolution is guided by love towards all the people. Don't forget what Che Guevara said: "a true revolutionary is guided by great feelings of love." Let's remember that because no one can gain freedom by attacking another race of people . . .

But also on the southside, the RIDGEWAY LORDS are getting it together. Over 300 people came to their dance and heard dynamite music from CAUTION and EARTHWORM. Everyone got along in a great spirit of unity. This included some clubs that used to fight each other. In addition to the RIDGEWAY LORDS, there were people from the AMBROSES, SPARTANS, and the LATIN KINGS. There were no fights, no bad vibes, and everyone had a good time so there will be another dance real soon.

Another thing about that dance – almost everyone signed a petition to get Sgt. Holub transferred out of the 10th District. He harasses people, especially Blacks and Latins. The people will get it together and get rid of this racist pig . . .

There have been a lot of good parties like the one in WAUKEGAN where people from DOWNTOWN, the HIGH SCHOOL, and POWELL PARK got together to do some partying. No one got rowdy, no one got busted, and everyone had a good time. Right on . . .

Also from Waukegan – Have a good summer to OLGA, LELA, and BARB who are going to visit the old country, Yugoslavia. Don't stay away too long . . . Right on to SKI and everyone from POWELL PARK for keeping the park cool and clean . . . MILDRED WRIGHT is the mother of Joe Wright, a people's musician who plays in the band SABATA. Recently, Mrs. Wright opened up a thrift shop in Waukegan. The shop is located at 808 Belvedere, and is open daily from 10–6. New and gently used clothing, housewares and other things are available at very reasonable prices. Mrs. Wright opened the store because she thinks thrift shops are a good idea and a help to the people. Everyone is welcome to come in and browse around. The shop is just getting started so let's show Mildred that anyone who helps the people is a friend of the people.

On Sunday, June 3rd, TAFT HIGH SCHOOL held a class picnic in Bunker Hill Woods where about 500 people had a good time. Earlier this year, the same people tried to have a picnic but got thrown out of the park by the police for not having a permit. This time they came prepared with a permit, a generator, and a local band, but as soon as the music started, the cops pulled the plug because they said the permit didn't cover music. The cops tried to ruin the day but everyone still had a good time, even tho it would have been better with music . . .

Now some bad news. ROMAN PUCINSKI was elected alderman on the northwest side. Some people think that because he's Polish he's going to help the Polish people in the neighborhood. Pucinski doesn't care about the people; he takes his orders direct from Daley. We thought we got rid of Pucinski after he lost the election for Senate, but like a cockroach he keeps coming back, even after you think you've gotten rid of him . . .

Belated congratulations to PANAMA and FRAN from Paulina and Barry Community who got married in April of 1973 . . . Congratulations also to RICK POWELL and FLORENCE ERNST who were also married . . . Everyone welcomes back ED SCHWARTZ . . . Congratulations to BILL KAMPENGA, MARION GREY, and the other law students of NORTHWESTERN LAW SCHOOL. . .

DANNY and PAULA McCOY from Holstein Park had a baby. . . JOHN SLEZEWSKI was hit below the eye with a golf club and had to get 15 stitches. Everyone from Jack-in-the-Box on Milwaukee and Pulaski hope you get well real soon. . . From Lawndale Park – everyone sends get-well wishes to EDDIE W. and from K-town everyone hopes that CHOPS gets better real soon.

THE TULEY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS beat the faculty at softball at Humboldt Park. The score was 5-2 . . . The band WIZARD needs an organist. Call bro Carmie at 829-6465 . . . The bro who left his camera in our car while hitchhiking on Saturday, June 9th, can get it back by leaving a message at the Angry office for Cheryl. . . ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE!

LLOYD PARK

On Sunday, June 3rd, people from the park had a neighborhood picnic. There were about 25 people who made it to Beck Lake in Rosemont for the food, music, swimming, canoeing, and good vibes all day long.

Along with the summer comes many fresh ideas and the picnic is just the beginning. The winter was long and it was cold. The park was divided and confused throughout the cold months because of the pigs, the drug scene, really no place to hang, s and different things like this. But the people came through it and are now stronger. The hippest thing is that it's early in the warm weather and the people are getting together already. But it was a drag that people had to go all the way to Beck Lake just to be together. You see, no matter what time of year it is, the park is always hot, and to hang there now means to go to jail for a disorderly conduct charge. But this has been true for years and it hasn't stopped the people from going back.

So after the people had a picnic and a good time they went to the park and within an hour and a half the pigs came and busted eight people. . . four sisters and four brother, and all for the same charge – disorderly conduct. They were taken to the 15th district station and had to stay there a few hours and spoil the night. But with the bad came the good – the bond was collected soon after the bust.

These kind of busts are happening all over the city, and it shows us who our friends are – and who don't mean the pigs. There have also been some neighbors complaining about us. But if we work together with them, we can get along, and we won't have to worry about them complaining. (Things always change!!!)

You know the summer will be long, and the pigs will be hot; but dig it, the beat of the people won't and can't be stopped!

ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE

PEOPLE'S CAR WASH

United People's Organization (UPO) in Waukegan sponsored a car wash on June 2 to raise money for a people's picnic on June 24th at Foss Park. Over 25 people helped wash the cars and proved that hard work doesn't have to be a drag if you're working together to serve the people.

UPO thanks everyone who contributed, either by washing cars or getting cars washed. Special thanks to Lela for making a beautiful poster; to Darrell for printing it up; and to Robby, Kathy, Binky, Roger, Juanita, Paul, Steve, Patty, Rick, Donna, Mark J., Dave, Olga, Soup Bone, Mark S., and Barb for the fine car washing.

NOW THESE DUDES' WEEKLY TAKE HOME PAY IS AROUND 1 MILLION DOLLARS.
SO WHEN THEY SAY WE'RE RUNNING OUT OF GAS, THEY UP THE PRICE PER GALLON, THEY CUT THE SUPPLY AND PUT THE LITTLE GUYS OUT OF BUSINESS....
GEEZ, DAT SOUNDS LIKE BLACK-MAIL
THEN THEY GET TOGETHER WITH THE WHITE HOUSE AND RIG PRICES, AND CUT ANTI-POLLUTION AND IMPORT REGULATIONS...
I'VE GOT TO GO DOWNTOWN - WATCH THE STATION AND REMEMBER THE 10 GALLON LIMIT....
SURE POP
97
A CAR PULLS IN...
GEEZ, MISTER.... IS DAT REALLY A ROLLED ROAST?
AIR VENT
NO YOU STUPID PEASANT.... IT'S A ROLLS ROYCE, AND FILL IT UP!
YOU TALK REAL FANCY, BUT MY DAD TOLD ME THERE'S A 10 GALLON LIMIT...
AIR VENT
THAT DOESN'T APPLY TO ME. I AM ON THE BOARD OF THIS OIL COMPANY AND I SAID, FILL IT UP......
YES-SIR.. I'LL GET MY FRIENDS TO HELP
AIR VENT
THESE LITTLE BUMS MUST BE TAUGHT TO RESPECT THE RICH.
